OICOOK

Enjoy the outdoors with all the comforts of an indoor kitchen.

OiCook is a modular collection of outdoor kitchens whose design is inspired by the look and finish of indoors kitchens. A design that takes its cues from current trends in the layout of contemporary outside spaces, that recreates a visual and material continuity between inside and outside. The finishes and worktop, in a porcelain material help to forge this singular aesthetic while embellishing the outdoor spaces used for cooking.

The OiCook outdoor kitchens provide two fully equipped options. On the one hand the One Side series is a conventional wall supported installation. And the other, the Island series allows for a free standing installation with a cantilevered worktop, like a bar that works really well for social gatherings.

Both options share the same modules and accessories, providing the same configurations either against a wall or free standing.

The range of OiCook outdoor kitchens includes four types of modules: two for storage (one with two compartments and another with two drawers and a compartment), an under sink module with a drawer and a compartment for cooking (the cooking accessories available are Barbecue, Teppanyaky and Ceramic Stove) was hing up sink, tap and 132 L capacity fridge with integrated panel.

All of which allows for multiple configurations, depending on the layout of the outdoor space and individual requirements.
